

PRIVACY POLICY

The MORUXO FURNISHINGS website can be found at moruxo.com (referred to hereafter as "We", "Us", or "Our"). Your privacy is a serious concern for us at MORUXO FURNISHINGS and we are committed to protecting all of our customers' personal information. To that end, we have provided our Privacy Policy, which summarizes all the practices we implement in regard to the collection, use, and disclosure of any information collected by and for this website (<http://www.moruxo.com>).

Gathered Information

There are two types of information which may be provided by you on this website: (1) knowingly and voluntarily disclosed personal information, and (2) information that is automatically collected by us as you browse. Any information that you voluntarily enter into this website or provide to us in some offline form is collected and stored. All visitors to this website have some information collected from them or regarding them, such as in the following ways, as are applicable to each visitor:

Registration

By registering for a specific event, contest, newsletter, or other product of this website, you will be required to provide personal information, such as contact information, preferences, or availabilities. Of course, visiting this website does not require any sort of mandatory registration.

Orders

Products and services may be ordered from some sections of the website, whether or not there is a cost associated with such an order. To complete such a transaction, it is necessary for us to collect data, including contact information (i.e., e-mail address, phone number), your date of birth, and your credit card details.

Email and browsers

Many areas of this website provide you with the opportunity to communicate with or contact us via e-mail. This includes input of your e-mail address in order to receive regular communication from us or a third party. Just by browsing this website, your presence and/or your browser may be transmitting information to our servers which is automatically collected. For instance, your IP address (the Internet address of the computer you are browsing from) is logged, as are the websites you visit and the date and time of your visit, along with other click-stream data. This automatically collected information may be combined with the other personal information which you have voluntarily provided to us. Besides this, only the type of computer, operating system, and browser that you are using are automatically relayed to us. Your browser gives us this information and we use it to improve the performance and compatibility of our website. Cookies may also be placed in your computer's hard drive, as may be done by many websites on the Internet. Cookies are used to identify your visitation to our website and make your interactions faster and more seamless. Cookies are also used to record website statistics. While most browsers accept cookies by default, you can change this within your browser settings; keep in mind, however, that many webpages may no longer function properly if you do this.

How We Use Your Information

In most cases, our use of your personal information is simply in communication with you related to your interaction with our website, to respond to a question, or to send you material that you have requested. Other, less common uses may include:

- To customize your experience of our website and deliver content that you are most interested in
- In consideration of your suggestions
- To respond to you directly for any reason
- To process a request that you have made for goods, services, or information
- To send you promotional or informative e-mail messages regarding our products and/or services, as well as events

If you do not wish to receive these communications, you may opt out of them at any time. If there are issues with our website, we may also use the information we collect from our customers to help us assess these issues. Statistical use patterns and demographic information will also be used to tailor and improve the website for its users. Administration of this website uses your IP address, and this is also used to identify your activity, demographics, and shopping cart information. Statistics are generated using your information, but this is done in such a way that you cannot be identified personally within these statistical results. Third parties may be used to collect and analyze this data, and as such, it may be shared with them and other affiliated third parties. All of this information is used for the following reasons:

- to improve the website's usefulness to its users
- to learn about the number and type of users on our website
- to understand which elements of our website are visited more or less often
- to learn how long our website is used for
- to ascertain which devices and technologies our users are accessing our website from

How We Disclose Your Information

With the exception of those few situations which we have described above, your information is not sold, rented, leased, licensed, traded, or otherwise disclosed to any unaffiliated third parties. Our affiliates and the service providers who help us improve and/or operate our website and business may be provided with your information. Such subsidiaries and affiliates may also be provided with information to help provide you with services you have requested or in which you may be interested. If we believe it is necessary to disclose your information in order to comply with any law, court order, rule, or subpoena, or if it would be necessary in order to enforce our legal rights or the rules of this website, or to protect our business, property, and operations, or if it is disclosed in connection with a sale, acquisition, merger, or other business combination of our business with a third party, we will do so. Non-personal information which cannot be used to identify you may also be disclosed to other parties for advertising and marketing uses. In some parts of this website, it may be possible for you to take part in e-commerce transactions (e.g., event registrations, donations, etc.). We collect data regarding these transactions as necessary to complete them, and this information that is collected may be furnished to a third party in order to adequately and successfully facilitate the transaction.

Website Links

Links to other websites which are determined to be of interest to you may be generated on our website. Note, however, that no other websites are officially endorsed by us. Our privacy policy is only applicable to our website. No other privacy policies of websites that we linked to have been reviewed or are approved by us. Each website that you visit should have its privacy policy and information disclosure policies reviewed by you before use.

Security

We have put many physical, electronic, and managerial protocols in place in an attempt to safeguard your privacy and prevent any unauthorized access to your information, maintain our data security, and appropriately use the personal information we collect. Orders and access to personal information are provided on a secure server by our website. No transaction or transmission of data on the Internet (or any other wireless network) can be guaranteed to be secure, however. Due to this, you must enter into such transactions at your own risks. We of course strive to make the process as secure as we possibly can.

Changes in our Privacy Policy

Your use of this website acts as consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information as have been described in this privacy policy. Changes to the policy will be posted on the website as they are made. With each use of this website by you, it is recommended that you review this Privacy Policy to ensure you continue to consent to its policies and that you are aware of any changes we have made.

Opting Out of Communications

You may choose to opt out of receiving communications from us when we request information from you. Review and removal of information from our database on you can be performed upon request. Individual sale data may be maintained for service and recordkeeping purposes. If you wish to have your data removed from our servers, you may send an e-mail to support@moruxo.com making such a request. You may receive an e-mail verifying this request, and you may still receive one e-mail, depending on the timing of your request and our e-mail schedules.

Privacy Policy Questions

Any questions or concerns that you may have regarding this Privacy Policy should be directed to support@moruxo.com.
